Textbook: We will be using the new series, T'es Branche? curriculum for level 1. Students will use the hardcopy text in class and will be learning how to log onto the online version as well. Workbook: The workbook pages will be copied and handed out to students for each unit./ 3-ring binder, divided into 5 sections / Pencil and/or pen In this course, students continue to develop the four basic skills: understanding spoken French, conversing on basic, everyday topics, reading simple texts, and writing with reasonable accuracy. Conversational fluency is emphasized throughout the course. The development of these skills also promotes students' cultural awareness and understanding of the French-speaking world. Communication-Communicate in French Cultures-Gain knowledge and understanding of Francophone culture Connections-Connect with other disciplines and acquire information Comparisons-Develop insight into the nature of language and culture Communities-Use the language within and beyond the school community *Grades will be calculated using a "total point" system. Assignments; (Formative work - classwork/homework/mini quizzes/lesson orals – student written conversations. - Purpose is to give targeted feedback. - If a student is absent, homework needs to be shown to teacher for full credit. Summative work (quizzes/tests/projects/unit orals) - Purpose is to assess the meeting of course objectives at the end of instruction. How to Study a World Language Learning a language is not difficult if you approach it wisely. You must be willing to work consistently for a certain period of time each day apart from completing homework. Ten to fifteen minutes a night is recommended. The following tips can help you master the material and with time and use, even acquire the language. Learn to Listen and Imitate You must be willing to listen for the general idea or "gist" of a message rather than becoming frustrated by not understanding every word. You must also be willing to guess at meanings, try newly acquired knowledge and make mistakes in order to communicate, understand and most of all, learn. Study You will learn material faster if you read it and say it. Repeat vocabulary words, verbs and phrases out loud to yourself or with a study partner. You may also find flashcards useful. If you struggle with spelling, try rewriting the word several times until it becomes a habit. Divide and Conquer Divide your material into small units when you are trying to memorize vocabulary. You should also divide your study time into small units of about fifteen to twenty minutes. Do other work and then revisit your language notes. Just before going to bed, mentally review any vocabulary or new information you learned in class that day or the previous day; this will help you retain the information in your mind. Use your class time well It is expected that you attend class regularly and participate in all activities. Successful students practice a lot for each class period. When someone else is giving an answer for example, you are listening and mentally thinking of the correct pronunciation, structure, conjugation, etc. When there are five to ten minutes of extra time for practice or study, successful students use it. Make every effort to be a responsible and conscientious student! Bon courage and I'm looking forward to a great year! T'es branché? offers more listening assets than any other French program so your students can truly immerse themselves in the language. Opportunities for listening are found throughout the program and resources from clickable vocabulary words online to literary elements that include audio components, news article dialogues, and videos. Students demonstrate presentational speaking using media prompts, simulated conversations, or visuals with custom or preloaded video Performance assessments. Give students a safe place to use the target language with their peers with Flipgrid, the dynamic video discussion and collaboration tool embedded directly into our online platform. Give students the opportunity to reflect on their own culture, make connections to other cultures, and see language through the eyes of the people who speak it. Cultural awareness and respect are woven throughout the text through diverse, relevant cultural readings and activities. Engage students with classic stories, new adventures, and cultural themes through an ever-expanding library of digital readers, including accompanying audio. Assign specific readers to match class topics and meet specific objectives, or allow students the power of choice to explore according to their own individual interests. Transport students to Francophone cultures and immerse them in the language through iCulture, a comprehensive and continuously updated library of grade-level appropriate on-location videos, thematic videos, news articles, and songs. Direct students to topics relating to unit themes or give them the opportunity to find what appeals to them the most. Meet your students where they are with the ability to access and assign content from the full program. T'es branché? is the only French program that gives you access to all four levels of content, so you can best meet your students' needs across various skill and proficiency levels. Navigate today's educational landscape whether you are teaching in person, virtually, or using a blended approach. Our dynamic digital learning environment lets you access all program resources, assign custom or preloaded activities and communicative tasks, evaluate student work, and provide meaningful feedback—all in one easy-to-use platform. Flashcards on Quizlet accompany every unit to help students build vocabulary breadth, depth, and fluency. With these building blocks, they'll develop confidence in their communicative skills. Students can watch clear and concise videos to learn grammar principles asynchronously or as review. Research shows that language is best learned in context. Dialogue Videos that show unit vocabulary and grammar in context help students truly grasp their meaning and usage. T'es branché? offers more listening assets than any other French program, so your students can truly immerse themselves in the language. The episodic drama, Rendez-vous à Nice engages students in language learning over twenty episodes and five documentaries. Learning French is enjoyable and effective with interactive jeux and Grammar & Vocabulary Practice Games that reinforce what students learn in class. Our ever-expanding library of leveled digital readers and accompanying audio capture students' imagination with classic stories, new adventures, and cultural themes. Assign specific readers to match class topics and meet specific objectives, or allow students to choose texts that pique their interest iVideos are found in iCulture, a comprehensive and continuously updated library of grade-level appropriate on-location videos, thematic videos, news articles, and songs. Through these culturally immersive experiences, students gain a deeper understanding of other cultures and of their own place in the world. Authentic cultural input such as songs immerses students in French and helps them fall in love with the language and French-speaking cultures.
